FONMON'S ANCESTORS

Llancarfan's May Walk 2026

Join Dr. Andy Seaman and Society members for an exciting extension to our traditional May walk.

30 May 1600 : Meeting at Fonmon Castle car park for an evening stride across the fields towards Llancadle.

Now re-opening his fourth year of excavation with students & volunteers from Cardiff University, Andy (Reader in Early Medieval Archaeology) offers to lead us on an historically rich journey into ancestral evidence from the late 6th century AD.

Who might predict that the Fonmon fields would reveal a mainly female (monastic?) cemetery, bordered by a domestic settlement – and yielding archaeological gems like this penannular brooch?

With grateful thanks to Dr. Seaman and Fonmon Castle for free Open Day access to the archaeological fields. A chance to spread the word about our treasures of the Vale. Sound shoes or wellies advisable!
